Reverberations Spread in Soviet As Khrush Falls

MOSCOW (AP) — The reverberations over Nikita Khrushchev's fall from power are spreading unpredictably and may not end for a long time.

The sudden removal of the ebullient 70 -year - old premier who for a decade captured world headlines while changing the direction of communism in the Soviet Union, could drag others under too.

A picture emerged of Khrushchev's final days as Soviet leader before Leonid I. Brezhnev, 57, became Communist party secretary and Alexei N. Kosygin, 60, Premier. It bore out the belief that Khrushchev was forced from rule at a dramatic, secret meeting of the Soviet Communist leadership.

W. Averell Harriman, former U.S. ambassador to Russia, and U.S. undersecretary of state for political affairs, said Friday night that Khrushchev told him last year he would step down after his 70th birthday and even named his successors. Harriman said in a talk at Muncie, Ind., that the only surprise in Khrushchev's demise "is the manner in which it happened.

Pravda, organ of the Communist party, shed light on the purge Friday in a bitter denunciation of the ousted chief. Without naming him, it accused Khrushchev of "hair-brained scheming, immature conclusions and hasty decisions and actions divorced from reality, bragging and phrasemongering, commandism and unwillingness to take into account the achievements of science and practical experience."

Though, in effect, accusing Khrushchev of dictatorship, the newspaper said the policies of peaceful coexistence of the former ruler would be carried out. It also said Khrushchev's support for the new nations of Asia and Africa and his plans for a Communist summit showdown with Red China would be continued.

A foreigner who talked with Khrushchev last month said the premier was almost obsessed with the Chinese challenge. It was his handling of Russian-Chinese relations that some non-Communist observers say swung the balance against him when the Communist leadership met Monday.

Khrushchev at the time was rejoicing at his vacation villa on the Black Sea over news that the Soviet Union had sent into orbit the first multi-passenger space ship.

The premier had invited Gaston Palewski, French minister for nuclear and space research,

Goldwater Details Views On Civil Rights Problem

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says the American ideal "is neither to establish a segregated society nor to establish an integrated society, it is to preserve a free society."

The Republican presidential nominee who made his first major campaign speech on civil rights here Friday night, was scheduled to take off today on a barnstorming tour of Ohio, with stops at Mansfield, Akron, Canton and Youngstown.

He told a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner when the Constitution declares "that all men are created equal" it doesn't mean that their accomplishments, skills, achievement or ambitions are equal.

"No, on those levels, there is no equality," Goldwater said. "There is only opportunity."

The Arizona Senator warned that progress toward equal rights might be slow. He added:

"One kind of frustration can be brought about if no progress at all seems to be made toward greater equality of opportunity. Another can be brought about if everything short of total success is viewed as nothing at all, worthless, and deserving only contempt."

In his Chicago speech, Goldwater sounded many of the themes he has voiced before on the subject of civil rights.

He said it was "just as wrong to compel children to attend certain schools for the sake of so-called integration as for the sake of segregation." And he condemned bussing of students to schools outside their neighborhoods to insure a racial balance.

"Congress must also take action to remedy defects in the laws dealing with genuine civil rights," Goldwater said, and identified one of these civil rights as the right to vote in federal elections.

"But the fundamental issue of our day — the new area into which the act of 1964 dangerously treads — is a different one," Goldwater said. "It is the issue of unfair discrimination in the private affairs of men."

He repeated his belief that the public accommodations section of the new Civil Rights Act was unconstitutional.

"No law can make one person like another if he doesn't want to," Goldwater said. "Government can do little more than offer moral leadership and persuasion. The ultimate solution lies in the hearts of men."

6 Kluxers Are Indicted In Georgia

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted six white Athens men on charges of conspiring to injure and intimidate Negro citizens in Georgia.

The action led a Ku Klux Klan leader to pledge support to those named in the indictments. The FBI identified them as members of the Klan.

The six included Cecil William Myers, 25, and Joseph Howard Sims, 41, who were acquitted Sept. 4 in a state court at nearby Danielsville in the night rider, shotgun slaying of Lemuel Penn, a Washington, D.C. Negro educator.

FBI agents arrested three of the men Friday after the indictments were returned by a jury which had been hearing evidence in the civil rights case most of the week.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified them as Denver Willis Phillips, 24, a garage mechanic; George Hampton Turner, 32, a loom fixer; and Herbert Guest, 37, who operates the garage where Phillips works.

Also indicted was James S. Lackey, 28, who is in jail at Macon awaiting trial by the state in the Penn slaying.

Hoover described the six men as active participants in affairs of Clarke County Klavern No. 224 of the United Klans of America Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Athens is the county seat.

Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta, Grand Dragon of the Klan, said he would do everything possible to aid the men.

Jenkins Case Effects Hinge on FBI Findings

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Democratic National Chairman John Bailey says there are no indications as to how the case of Walter Jenkins, special assistant to President Johnson arrested twice on morals charges, will affect the outcome of the November election.

Bailey, who was campaigning in the 4th Ohio congressional district friday, said that "we won't know anything until the FBI report is released and the President probably will release it before election day."

Viet Cong Clobbered In Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Government troops battered the Viet Cong from the northern border to the outer Delta region, inflicting more than 300 casualties on the Communist guerrillas, sources said today.

The Vietnamese victories came in three major battled Friday in what was described as one of the worst days of the war for the Communists. One American was slighly wounded.

The most decisive fighting took place in the southern Delta region, near Pac Lieu where 89 Viet Cong died and 17 others were captured in an eight-hour battle. Airborne Rangers in U.S. Army helicopters raked the area with rockets and machine gun fire while the Vietnamese air force dropped explosives and bombs on a force of 200 guerrillas in rice paddies.

The government lost 6 and 25 others were injured, including an American enlisted man grazed by a bullet. He returned to duty after treatment.

In a second engagement 25 miles from Saigon, more than 100 Viet Cong were killed or wounded when two government columns encountered a battalion of Communists. The Viet Cong destroyed one U.S.-made H-24 tank and damaged two others that were part of a platoon accompanying the troops.

Pickpockets Return Loot, Fined Anyhow

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two convicted pickpockets, who returned the $118 they were accused of taking from two women, were fined a total of $500 Friday.

Wilson Forms New Cabinet

Labor Has Slim Edge in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Installed in office by a razor-thin margin, Britain's new prime minister, Harold Wilson, pushed ahead today the business of forming a Labor government.

With a probable Parliamentary majority of only four votes, the 48-year-old prime minister will have little leeway to carry out his five-year program.

Wilson's most controversial measures — steel renationalization, government ownership of urban building land and the phasing out of Britain's nuclear deterrent — are bound to meet powerful opposition after the new Parliament meets Oct. 27.

Friday night's late returns with one result to come gave Wilson's Laborites 317 of the 630 House of Commons seats. The Conservatives of former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home had 305 seats and the Liberal party 9—an over-all majority for Wilson of five.

The last seat is expected to be held by the Conservatives, reducing the slender Labor margin further.

Wilson moved swiftly to form his administration. Within hours of his call to Buckingham Palace where he met with Queen Elizabeth II on his appointment, the Prime Minister named his first six cabinet ministers.

The key post of foreign secretary went to Patrick Gordon Walker, despite his defeat for a Commons seat at the hands of a Tory candidate.

Gordon Walker, 57-year-old pipe smoking party intellectual, was expected to get a safe Commons seat upon the retirement of one of Labor's elderly rank-and-filers.

George Brown, 50, deputy party leader, was named minister of economic affairs and first secretary of state which means, in effect, he is deputy prime minister.

Other appointments were: Denis Healey, 47, minister for defense; Jim Callaghan, 52, chancellor of the Exchequer; Herbert Bowden, 59, leader of the House of Commons and Lord Gardiner, 65, lord chancellor or head of the nation's judiciary.

WILL CONTINUE SEEKING A "SOLID PEACE" — President Johnson personally escorts Soviet Ambasasdor Anatoly F. Dobrynin from the White House following a meeting during which the President was told the new Soviet government would continue former Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence. Johnson announced later that he and the new Soviet leadership had exchanged pledges to continue seeking a "solid peace."

Lt. Gov. Brown Named in Lawsuit

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — The widow of a man police say was struck and killed by a car driven by Ohio Lt. Gov. John W. Brown has filed a $255,000 damage suit against Brown. The suit, filed in Common Pleas Court here Friday, charges Brown, from Medina, with negligence in the death of Robert L. Moore, of Marengo.

Moore was walking along Interstate 71 in Delaware County July 11, 1963 when he was killed. The suit charges Brown was driving at high speed and failed to keep a proper lookout. Moore's widow, Margie, a mother of three, asks $250,000 damages, plus $5,000 for funeral expenses.

World Evaluates Chinese Entry into Nuclear Club

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China crashed the world's nuclear power circle Friday by exploding its first nuclear device.

The blast was confirmed in Washington by President Johnson. In a broadcast statement, Johnson described the test as "low yield." He said "its military significance should not be over-estimated."

The President said the United States is prepared to respond to any calls from non-Communist neighbors of China for help against threats or aggression.

In a broadcast by the New China News Agency, Peking declared: "China exploded an atom bomb at 1500 hours (2 a.m. EST) on October 16, 1964, and thereby conducted successfully its first nuclear test.

"This is a major achievement of the Chinese people in their struggle to increase their national defense capability and oppose the U.S. imperialist policy of nuclear blackmail and nuclear threats.

"China is forced to conduct nuclear tests and nuclear weapons."

The statement said China wants all nations to agree to shun such weapons, but will develop its own stockpile in the meantime.

The New China News Agency reported that Premier Chou en-Lai told a meeting of the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress that the explosion was "a victory of the Chinese people in implementing the principle of relying on their own strength..."

This was a slap at Russia, which refused in 1959 to honor a commitment to furnish Peking with samples of an atom bomb. In 1960 the Russians withdrew Soviet aid and technicians from Red China, forcing Peking to resort to its own devices.

There was no direct comment from Moscow where the news of the blast arrived only a day after a Kremlin shakeup had busted Premier Khrushchev from power.

The Japanese government issued a strong protest against the detonation. Chief Cabinet Secretary Zenko Suzuki, speaking for ailing Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, said "we deeply regret that Communist China has ignored the desire of the people of the world for a halt to nuclear tests."

Headon Crash Fatal to 4

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Four persons were killed and a teen-age boy was injured late Friday night in a headon collision eight miles south of here on Ohio 60 near the Blue Rock Reservation and Forest.

Killed in the smashup were the drivers of both cars, Thomas J. Bauer, 55, of 288 S. Seventh St., McConnelsville, and Thomas Glenn Drake, 31, of 1480 Koedel Rd., Columbus; a passenger in Bauer's car, Margaret Jean Bauer, of the McConnelsville address, and a passenger in Drake's auto, Floyd Dunlap, 24, of Fultonham.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said that Drake's car was on the wrong side of the highway at the time of the collision.

Turbulence Abroad Eyed

Kremlin Shakeup, Red China Analyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called the National Security Council to the White House today as he abandoned the campaign trail for a watchful weekend in the capital.

The President had planned to spend today at his ranch in Texas and to campaign Sunday in the state. But this went by the boards amid turbulent international developments.

The top item on the agenda for today's council session is to review with his key advisers issues arising from the ouster of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the formation of a new government in Moscow.

Two other topics certain to be discussed are Red China's explosion yesterday of a nuclear device — its first — and the institution of a new Labor government in London.

Two other topics certain to be discussed are Red China's explosion yesterday of a nuclear device — its first — and the institution of a new Labor government in London.

Information available from high administration officials indicates this is Washington's view of the week's three dramatic developments: 1. Shakeup in the Kremlin — The new leaders of the Soviet Union, Communist party boss Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin, probably will make some move toward patching up the Soviet-Chinese split and restoring unity to the whole Communist bloc. U.S. officials doubt that a real reconciliation is possible, but the removal of Khrushchev, the major Chinese target, at least clears the way for the new Kremlin bosses to explore the chances of settlement.

If probings are undertaken and they result in easing the differences, the Soviet Union may swing to a somewhat tougher line toward the West.

On the other hand a sharpening of the Moscow-Peking struggle would probably lead to closer relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

2. Chinese nuclear explosion — The major U.S. problem is to try to assure any Asian countries which might be intimidated by the Chinese nuclear

Yes, the Boss Can Make You 'Sick'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Are you sore at the boss — but don't dare show it? Maybe youve got status medicamentosa.

Says Dr. C. W. Wahl, of the UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute:

"Self-medication with aspirins, tranquilizers, laxatives, cough syrup, sleeping pills and what-have-you often produces a bizarre set of symptoms hard to diagnose because they are different for almost every individual."

They include headaches, rashes, muscle spasms, tingling fingertips, dizziness and faintness.

Among the important causes is frustration created by suppressing ill-feeling toward the boss, Wahl told the Industrial Health Conference yesterday.

Khrush Believed To Be Victim Of Own Creation: Painless Purge

EDITOR'S NOTE — Stanley Johnson has known Nikita Khrushchev since he went to Moscow as an American foreign correspondent shortly after the death of Stalin in 1953. He watched Khrushchv and talked with him over the years, not only in Moscow but on trips to the Soviet hinterland and abroad. This is Johnson's assessment of Khrushchev's rise and fall.

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev was forced out of power this week by the very sort of painless purge he invented to replace the bloodbaths of Stalin's day.

For the past 10 years the world has read of Khrushchev's victims in his ruthless struggle for power. Now, after changing the structure of Communism beyond the imaginings of Lenin and Stalin, after dominating the headlines of the world, the potbellied, near-sighted, balding man of 70 has retreated into an obscurity so deep it may never be penetrated.

Just how a Kremlin cabal goes about toppling a man as expert at toppling others as Khrushchev is one of the chief questions fascinating students of Soviet affairs. They asked the same question when Khrushchev threw out Georgi M. Malenkov on Feb. 8, 1955.

Who is the first one to whisper "Nikita must go" when he knows the penalty is death or exile of overhead? How does he find others determined enough and wily enough to join the conspiracy?

Some but not all of the answers are clear.

First, Mikhail Suslov, the steely chief propagandist of the Soviet Union, presided at the meeting of the Central Committee at which Khrushchev's ouster was declared.

He must have been the first to say "Khrushchev must go."

Although Suslov was his chief spokesman in the war of words with China, Khrushchev never really trusted him.

Suslov is almost certainly the directing force behind the Kremlin's two new front men — Communist party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, 57, and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, 60.

Secondly, the conspirators bided their time.

Just about everything has been going wrong for the Soviet Union lately, so just about everybody was ready for a change

Stretch fabrics have really been going great on the clothing markets these past few months. Have you purchased any recently or tried your skill in sewing them?

It was once believed that special patterns were necessary to sew garments of these fabrics. But this is not true today.

In fact, any pattern can be used to sew a stretch garment. There will be certain adjustments to make if the "stretch look" is desired.

Some pattern envelope instructions suggest that a stretch fabric would be a suitable choice of the design. But it is not necessary to make a selection from this limited group of patterns to successfully construct a stretch garment. It is desirable, however, to choose a pattern with simple lines and as few pattern pieces as possible.

An easy method of shrinking stretch fabrics (if the needs are to stretch it) is to press with a steam iron. Pressure should not be applied.

Wrap stretch garments, especially those that are heavy in weight, may elongate if stored on a hanger in the wardrobe. For this reason, many prefer to fold heavy warp types and store them on shelves on in drawers.

Horizontal stretch garments should be stored on hangers in the usual manner.

Here are some tips for constructing garments in stretch fabrics:

In laying the pattern be certain to place pieces in the direction of the desired stretch.

A suit jacket is cut with horizontal stretch. Fabric should lie as flat as possible while cutting.

While mercerized cotton thread is sometimes used for sewing stretch fabrics, a nylon or textured nylon thread is really more satisfactory for preventing seam breakage.

In adjusting the sewing machine for sewing on stretch the bobbin should be wound loosely, and bobbin tension loosened to allow the bobbin case to "ride down" the thread.

A test sample will help to determine the proper stitch length. A greater number of stitches per inch produces a seam with greater stretch.

In seams where stretch is not desired such as across the shoulders seam tape is sewn into the seam line.

Interfacing fabrics helps to stabilize the outer fabric in areas where stretch is not desired. The lining for a jacket or coat should have the same percentage of stretch as the outer fabric.

Zippers are applied in the conventional manner.

If fabric frays badly, the seam allowance edges may be finished with a zigzag stitch.

Hems may be turned, stitched and slipstitched. For hand sewing, short, loose stitches are suggested.

Drought Cuts Hay Supply In Several Ohio Areas

Many Ohio livestock farmers face this winter with less hay than they had a year ago.

But prices at which they may buy hay shouldn't climb much above those of recent years, predicts Dr. Wallace Barr, Ohio State University Extension economist.

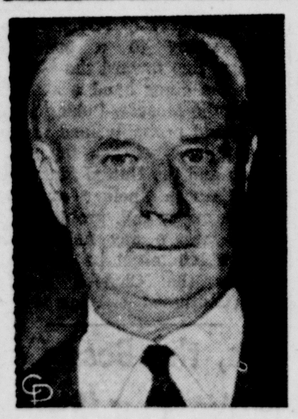
Total hay supplies in the U.S. for the 1964-65 feeding year are three per cent below last year and slightly below the five-year average, Barr says.

This means that the supply per animal unit will be little less than a year ago, perhaps two per cent less at about 1.35 tons, compared to 1.58 tons in 1-58-59.

The hay situation in Ohio varies considerably from one area to another. In some sections of the state where dry weather has reduced pasture yields, farmers have been feeding hay and silage for several weeks. This practice has depleted supplies which normally farmers would have reserved for winter use. But overall hay supplies in Ohio are 5 per cent above the 1963 level.

Hay prices usually rise to a peak in mid-winter or late winter, Dr. Barr notes.

He expects the same trend to occur this winter. In the last two years, the price of baled alfalfa hay in Ohio increased an average of $4 a ton from October to a mid-winter peak of $32.50. In the same period, clover timothy hay increased $3.50 a ton to a peak of $28.50.



300,000 DEATHS—Former SS Gen. Karl Wolff (above) faces a sentence of 15 years in prison from a Munich, West Germany, court which convicted him, as Heinrich Himmler's adjutant, of "full knowledge of Nazi plans to exterminate Europe's 11,000,000 Jews" and complicity in execution of 300,000 of them.

Children Do as You Do

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha School Superintendent Paul A. Miller called on adults to behave themselves if they wanted their children to be well - behaved.

Adults should realize the value in the oldtime sayings, Miller said, that "children do as you do, not as you say," and "actions speak louder than words."

He told the Omaha Public School's opening fall conference for teachers and administrators that if the community behaves itself, its children will automatically know how to behave and teachers will have a chance to make great progress in classrooms.

Gather Mulch Early for Your Roses

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Whether you're new in the rose game or an old pro, your roses will still need a protective mulch to bring them through the winter successfully. Find your mulching materials soon in order to have them on hand when needed.

Most winter injury to roses comes from the alternate freezing and thawing of the soil during warm spells in winter. This problem can be minimized by proper application of a good winter mulch around the plants.

A mulch will prevent the soil from freezing too deep and also act as an insulator to keep it that way.

Too early application of the mulch may result in as much damage to the plants as no mulch at all. It may prevent the soil from freezing, thus allowing the plants to sprout too early in the spring before the danger of killing frosts has passed.

IN OHIO, six to eight inches of mulch is usually sufficient. If you already maintain a summer mulch, you simply add to it for the winter one.

In the absence of mulching materials, soil can be mounded around the base of the plants, but this involves considerable work and the soil must be hauled in rather than pulled up from the rose bed.

Gardeners should want to wait until the soil has partially frozen before applying the mulch. The best mulches are kinds that do not tend to pack down tightly. Coarse ground corncobs make an excellent mulch; others that will work well include clean straw, wood chips, and peat moss.

Farm Facts . .

SLAUGHTER lamb prices should be about $1 higher for the rest of the 1964-65 feeding year than a year earlier, according to Ohio State University Extention economists.

SINCE 1962, the marketing of Scotch pine for Christmas trees in Ohio has nicreased by 461,000 trees.

TO HELP reduce the mouse hazard in orchards and to aid in the application of treated baits, it is necessary to keep grass and weed growth down around the trees.

ONE OF the main reasons that poultrymen oil eggs is to help retain the carbon dioxide in the egg. Carbon dioxide plays an important role in maintaining interior quality.

A WILD sweetclover species may have a source of resistance to the sweetclover weevil that scientists can transfer to commercial sweetclovers, according to the Agricultural Research Service.

HAWAIIAN sugarcane growers hope a beetle, newly introduced to their islands, will thrive and multiply. It is a natural enemy of the sugarcane mealybug, a damaging pest of the Hawaiian sugarcane crop.

LAMB feeding in the U. S. actually started out on a large scale operation around flour mills to use the waste products.

Autumn Best Planting Time For Trees and Evergreens

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

Falling leaves, cool nights and frequent rains all signal the approach of autumn planting season for the home gardener.

With vacations out of the way and most of the seasonal garden chores behind, time can be taken to set out woody ornamentals and evergreens to improve the landscape around your home.

Planting may seem easy. But to assure success, Ohio State University Extension Horticulturists offer a few pointers.

Ornamentals are usually available at nurseries and garden supply stores in containers, and are balled-and-burlapped and bare-root plants. All can be grown with success if given proper treatment at planting time.

TO AVOID undue exposure to wind and sun, dig your planting holes ahead of time and have sufficient prepared planting soil on hand to fill the holes. Use the best topsoil you can find and mix in at least one-third peat moss, compost or similar organic material.

The width and depth of the planting hole should be about one to two feet more than the size of the root ball. Place the plant in the hole facing the desired direction, then fill the hole half full with the prepared soil, carefully working around the ball or roots as needed.

Fill the remaining space with water to help settle the soil and remove air pockets. When settled, add more soil, placing it firmly with your foot. The plants should be set about the same level or slightly deeper than when grown in the nursery. In any case, avoid deep planting.

Some pruning may be necessary to shape the plant. Any broken roots should be trimmed back and about one-third of the top should be removed. For shrubs, simply remove broken or old canes. For trees, reduce the leaf-bearing branches about one-third. Evergreens usually will not need any pruning.

In any situation, consider the normal shape of the plant when pruning. Never cut back the main trunk of trees, such as pin oak and maples.

Trees should be braced after planting with stakes set into the soil on at least two sides of the trunk. Then tie the trunk loosely to the stakes with rope or wire strung through pieces of old plastic or ruber water hose to prevent scuffing the bark.

IF EVERGREENS are planted in an exposed location, a wind-break of burlap or similar shield material will help prevent excessive water loss or winter burn.

Keep the plants watered right up to freeze-up time. By spring, the plants will be well rooted and ready to leaf out for your enjoyment.

Garbage Disposal May Call For Bigger Septic Tank

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

If your home depends on a septic tank for disposal of household sewage, don't install a garbage disposal unless your system is big enough to handle the extra waste.

The question is, what is "big enough?" Most modern homes need at least a 1,900 gallon septic tank. Under normal conditions, that should be big enough to handle a garbage disposal.

Many authorities say a garbage disposal adds 50 per cent to the minimum size of the tank needed. Best way to make sure your tank is big enough to check with your local health department. Regulations vary from one county to another.

Using a garbage disposal with one too small means the tank must be cleaned frequently. Otherwise sludge may pass into the disposal field and clog the leach bed.

EVEN IF your septic tank is adequate, it's a good idea to check it once a year. Use a 6-foot stick wrapped with a piece of old towling to measure the depth of scum and solids.

If this depth is more than 18 inches, the tank should be cleaned. Usually, a tank of proper size will need cleaning no oftener than every three years.

Public health service studies have shown that additives aren't necessary to keep the tank functioning properly. Some of them actually may be harmful. But chemicals normally used in the home — laundry bleach, drain cleaners, salt brine from water softeners — are not harmful, providing the tank is of proper size.

Taft-Young TV Debate Is Expected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It looks like the Democratic and Republican candidates for the U. S. Senate from Ohio are finally getting together on scheduling televised debates.

Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young and Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. have agreed to a series of debates around the state, with more expected to be scheduled soon.

Their first debate—or, more accurately, joint television appearance — came Thursday morning when they made formal statements on the National Broadcasting Co.'s nationally televised "Today" show in New York.

A few hours later, WHIO-TV in Dayton announced that Young and Taft had agreed to take part in a debate at the station Oct. 28. WHIO news director Tom Frawley said the show will be taped in advance but will not be edited.

In Cincinnati, a spokesman for the Crosley Broadcasting Co. said he hoped agreement will be reached by the two candidates today for a debate over the Crosley outlets in Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus.

The club met Oct. 1 at the home of Darrell Ratliff for the last meeting of the current year.

President Gary Smith called the meeting to order. The Pledge to the American flag and the 4-H Club Pledge were repeated by 20 members. The adviser distributed fair tickets.

Members were divided into study groups to discuss fitting and showing their animals for the Fair. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Wilbur Alkire, assisted by Miss Diana Ratliff.

The annual achievement meeting for the Stoutsville-Oakland area 4-H clubs will be Nov. 7.

This Little Pig went flying!
A high flying pig? Ridiculous! You'll have to push your pigs . . . not coddle 'em . . . if you want to beat the crowd when the markets are glutted with pigs. And there's no faster or cheaper way to do it than by feeding OCCO's complete "Pig to Payoff" program. Many OCCO feeders are saving 2 or 3 weeks of heavy, costly feeding at market time by putting on cheap, early gains NOW with OCCO Baby Pig Starter. These highly-fortified, palatable, kernel-size pellets contain Dynafac and broad spectrum antibiotics that are so important for a fast, safe, scour-free start. Let me show you how easily your home-grown grains can fit into one of many farm-tested OCCO feeding programs. You'll see a big difference in results . . . the kind of results that will mean bigger profits at market time.

Americans for Democratic Action Stirs Constant Political Controversy in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — ADA stands for American Dairy Association and American Dental Association.

It also stands for Americans for Democratic Action, which describes itself as a liberal, independent political organization.

But that's not the way Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican candidate for president, is describing it. Nor his vice - presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller.

In the words of Miller, Americans for Democratic Action is a leftist organization that is trying to "transform our government into a foreign, socialistic totalitarianism."

As for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey —a founder of ADA, a national officer for many years, and still a member — Goldwater has referred to him as "this AA radical of the left." In Cincinnati, Goldwater said that Humphrey, President Johnson's running mate, is "the most prominent left-wing radical in the country."

The ADA is not surprised. It has been deep in controversy since it was started, back in 1947, by a group drawn heavily from the ranks of New Dealers who had followed Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Its stated purposes then were to carry the New Deal forward, and to eliminate Communist influences from the liberal movement. ADA says today it "seeks to influence the nomination and election of candidates favorable to liberal programs." With headquarters here, ADA claims a membership of 50,000, about the size of the Izaak Walton League of fishermen.

ADA declares that since its founding it has rejected all association with totalitarianism, whether Communist or Fascist. Former Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle, onetime chairman of the ADA, has described it as a "liberal lobby."

The storm raging about ADA and his connection with it has not shaken Humphrey.

"My role in the ADA has been both a source of inspiration and gratification to me," he declared when he resigned as vice chairman Sept. 2 to begin campaigning.

The national chairman, John P. Roche, a political science teacher at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., says the Republican candidates are talking nonsense. Roche said "the notion behind Miller's attitude is that the American people are a bunch of clods." Miller's attack on ADA is "the death rattle of a political bunkrupt," he added.

Miller "is a guttersnipe," in the words of Joseph L. Rauh, Washington lawyer and an ADA stalwart.

The ADA forces rejoiced when President Johnson tapped one of their own for the No. 2 spot.

"Sure, we are happy," Roche told a reporter. "Hubert Humphrey is an admirable choice — a man of conscience and intelligence."

Republican National Chairman Dean Burch exulted: "The Democrats effectively killed any question of extremism in this campaign when they allowed a vice chairman of the ADA to become the vice-presidential nominee."

John E. Grenier, executive director of the Republican National Committee, predicted: "The nomination of Hubert Humphrey, an extreme left liberal and vice chairman of the socialistic ADA, not only insures the vote (for the Republican ticket) of the South but of traditional Republican states of the plains, Midwest and some of the East."

The ADA says its budget is $150,000 a year, a tiny drop in a small bucket as finances go in Washington. There is a rule forbidding membership to Communits.

ADA has always pushed for social legislation, such as civil rights, medical care for the aged and public housing.

ADA proposes that the government invest at least in additional $5 billion a year for the next four years in education, housing, urban renewal, public works, health services and resource conservation.

In its civil liberties program, ADA seeks defeat of amendments to the Consitution relating to public school prayers, Bible reading in schools, and praying in public places. It urges abolition of the House Committee on Un-Aamerican Activities. It opposes loyalty oaths other than traditional ones by government employes to support the Constituion of he United States.

Goldwater protested in 1962 that the White House was full of ADA'ers advising the late President John F. Kennedy.

"There are 31 members of the ADA there," Goldwater said. "I am worried about the extremists to the left who are in government."

"ADA," he said this summer, "is the only left-wing socialistic organization that I know of that operates in the present administration."

Where Kennedy had three Cabinet members who were ADA members, Johnson has but one — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The other two of Kennedy's three, Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, are still in government, Ribicoff as a senator from Connecticut and Goldberg as a Supreme Court justice.

Relations between ADA and President Johnson used to be sour, but now they are sweet.

The ADA answer is that in 1960 Johnson was a Texas senator and took his stands accordingly, but in 1964 he had become president — as he likes to put it himself — of all the people.

Humphrey has said he does not agree with all of ADA's stands. For example, he said he favors a tougher policy toward Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba than the ADA has taken.

On Cuba, ADA said: "We believe that American interests (and the interests of the hemisphere and of peace) would be best served if the Cuban government could be persuaded to assume a position of genuine nonalignment and could, by giving guarantees of nonintervention in the affairs of its neighbors, qualify for readmission to the Organization of American States."

Miller says Humphrey during 15 years in the Senate "has voted the official ADA line on 191 occasions and has bolted on only three."

Miller, hitting the soft-on-communism theme, asks: "Do we want a leader from the ADA which advocates diplomatic recognition of Red China — which advocates the admission of Red China to the United Nations, which advocates removal of the travel ban so that Chinese Communists can come travel through this country?"

Roche replied: "We never advocated giving something for nothing. It was always conditioned on freedom for Taiwan (Formosa) to choose its own government. As far as the travel ban is concerned we believe in freedom of travel for everybody; we don't believe a few Chinese Communists would corrupt us — in our view the opposite would happen."

Miller also asks: "Do we want a leader from the ADA which just this January advocated a total abandonment of the Panama Canal — which said we should turn it over to the United Nations?"

Roche comments: "This proposal was first made by Sen. George Aiken, a Republican from Vermont, in 1960 — that is, that we should consider internationalization of the Canal one. To talk of surrendering it is totally absurd."

Another Miller question: "Do we want a leader who says that the United States should turn over Berlin to the United Nations?"

Roche's reply: "That is just wrong. We support the defense of Berlin."

Roche agreed with Miller on one thing: that ADA wants to junk the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Miller views the committee as honorable and patriotic; Roche calls a carnival and a public nuisance. After that, the area of agreement between ADA and the Republican leadership narrows to virtually nothing.

No. 1 guerrilla is Nguyen Huu Tho, onetime Saigon lawyer. He is president of the Central Committee of the National Liberation Front, formal name for guerrillas.

FROM THE "OTHER SIDE"—These photos made in South Viet Nam come from Wilfred Burchett, an Australian journalist based in Moscow who corresponds for leftwing publications. They show the "other side" of the guerrilla war, since Burchett was able to mingle with the enemy. He spent five months among the guerrillas.

It's Not Hard To Make Atom Bomb, Barry Says

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he was not surprised that the Red Chinese had exploded an atomic bomb, but he said it would be many years before they could build a device to deliver the bomb.

"Making a bomb is not a difficult thing any more," he said. "If you can get some fissionable material you can make it almost any place."

Feelings of Asians Vary About Mighty Red China

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — For Southeast Asia, the Red colossus to the north inspires feelings ranging from deep distrust and even enmity in pro-Western Thailand to cautious friendship in Indonesia and Cambodia.

Malaysia, created a year ago from onetime British territories, partly as an attempt to stem prospective Red Chinese expansion, has 4.2 million Chinese in its population of 10 million. Its policy is to "try to make them good Malaysians."

Malaysian leaders meet the two-China problem by recognizing neither the Communist one nor the Nationalist, although it is no secret their sympathies are with the Nationalists on Formosa.

Rice-rich Thailand banks heavily on its alliance with the United States to keep the Red Chinese away. Thailand strictly bans Chinese trade.

Burma, nestling under China's southern border, maintains good relations with Peking, but the Burmese assert "positive neutrality" in the dispute between the Red Chinese and the Soviet Union.

Indonesia shares many views with Peking, particularly toward what it calls imperialism in Southeast Asia. But there seems an underlying fear of Red China. Trade is growing.

South Viet Nam, engulfed in a war with Communist guerrillas and plagued by internal political strife, eyes Red China with dread. Few doubt that collapse of the Saigon resistance would lead to domination directly by Communist North Viet Nam and indirectly by Red China, which seems to regard Viet Nam as the key to mastery of the Southeast Asia mainland.

Laos presents three faces toward Peking. It has a troika-style government arrangement, agreed to in 1962 at Geneva as an instrument of neutralization: right-wing, Communist and neutral.

Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has just returned to his Phnom Penh capital from a trip to Peking. He said he was offered military and economic aid unconditionally.

It takes more than 7,500 men and women, working in the Capitol and in neighboring office buildings, to help the 535 members of Congress keep up with their jobs.

WINS NOBEL PRIZE—Dr. Konrad Bloch (above), 52, a biochemist at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., and Prof. Feodor Lynen of the Max-Planck Institute in Munich, Germany, won the 1964 Nobel Prize for medicine and physiology. They will share the $52,000 prize.

Here's news for cattle feeders!

Purina's new "Built-to-Fit" Special Steer Fatenas

Here is just one of nearly 300 test pens of cattle used to develop the new Special Steer Fatenas at Purina's Research Farm. Four years of testing involved more than 2500 test cattle.

Each of these new cattle supplements is formulated for a SPECIFIC kind of grain and roughage. Even the size of your cattle is considered in selecting the right one for you to feed!

Results? These new Special Steer Fatenas have set all-time Purina performance records in 4 years of tests. For example, the new Steer Fatena "Built-to-Fit" corn or milo rations, fed with poor quality roughages, produced 6.4% faster gains on 10.7% less feed! These extra results were worth $11.40 more per steer on a $20 cattle market with 700 lb. yearlings fed 120 days!

The new Steer Fatena "Built-to-Fit" barley rations produced equally high results at a lower feed cost than ever before!

Whether you bunk-feed or self-feed your cattle, there's a new Special Steer Fatena "Built-to-Fit" your own feeding conditions. Come in and find out which is formulated to step up your feeding efficiency!

The American Way

More than 450 star athletes from the United States were on hand in Tokyo when the Olympic Games opened Oct. 10. These are the most heavily publicized Olympics in history, with 1,700 news and camera men, and (if all goes well) television coverage in the U. S. via the Syncom telecommunications satellite.

There may not be logic in viewing the games as a showcase of national strength, yet the fact is that vast national prestige rides on the outcome. The Soviet Union has recognized this and reportedly has spent $1.2 billion on its sports program, preparing for the Games.

For this reason it is disturbing to learn that the campaign for private voluntary funds to support the American $2.5 million effort is lagging. All Americans have an interest in helping. They can do so easily by sending a check to the U. S. Olympic Committee, 57 Park Ave., New York 16, N. Y.

A PRESS SERVICE has unearthed some mighty peculiar rulings made by authorities in recent weeks. In Mexico City, for example, the Police Chief decreed, "Traffic policemen must shave off their mustaches. Instead of being a symbol of virility, the mustache has become a ridiculous facial adornment that belongs only in cowboy operas." In Bristol, England, a magistrate decided that "A glass of beer will be considered a full glass of beer in this court even if, according to the plaintiff, three fourths of it is foam." And a top official in the Austrian income tax department, in a generous moment, ruled, "If you have a monkey who does chores for you around your house, you can list him as a dependent for tax purposes."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The antibiotic wonder drugs were the object of intensive discussion at the International Antibiotics Conference at Prague. Great interest centered about a pioneering discovery. Tissues filled with antibiotics, especially the tetracyclines, were found to give off a brilliant fluorescence when examined under ultraviolet light.

Prior to this discovery, it had been felt that the value of antibiotics depended entirely on their destructive force against bacteria. The new studies show how antibiotics actually penetrate disease tissue.

This technique seems to pave the way for important strides in the diagnosis of disease as well as in its cure. The meeting emphasized that scientists are never content to rest on their laurels. New ideas are tracked down with an unswerving diligence, all in the hope that man will benefit by sustained health and greater longevity.

The appearance of the tongue is a quick, and often reliable index of the body's health. Important diagnostic information can be obtained by the careful scrutiny of this important organ.

In scarlet fever, there is an enlargement of tiny buds, recognizable as the "raspberry tongue."

Pernicious anemia, iron and vitamin deficiencies all have their characteristic tongue appearances. Fine tremors of the tongue are important in thyroid disturbances. Fungus infections are readily recognized by the changes they produce on the surface of the tongue. Drugs sometimes produce alterations on the tongue's surface.

A recent study in Ann Arbor, Mich., has shown that furrowed and shrunken tongues are an excellent indication of the body's loss of fluid.

At the University of Michigan Hospital, seven healthy, normal men volunteered to spend three to five days with unusually small amounts of fluid intake. Every one of these patients, after the third day of dehydration, developed characteristic changes in the appearnace of the tongue.

From this, the investigators evolved a potential technique for diagnosing the fluid content of the body, and possibly kidney impairment.

Every scientific study adds another important spoke in the wheel of the understanding of the total human being.

At the Colindale Hospital in London dramatic results have been reported in the control of asthma by hypnosis.

The pilot study has been sufficiently exciting to justify further investigation in England and in America.

Far Eastern Policy

By John Chamberlain

If, as Secretary of State Dean Rusk says, the Red Chinese are du to pull off some type of nuclear explosion before very long it will mean that the U. S. must fish or cut bait on its Far Eastern policy.

We have the reassuring words, of course, that a Red Chinese explosion would not amount to much in military terms. The Peiping economy, so it is said, lacks the capacity to build an effective delivery system. Besides, so the reassuring litany goes, any bomb that the Red Chinese might be able to manufacture would belong to the paleolithic age of modern atomic science. It would be a little thing, like, say, the bomb that wiped out Hiroshima, which was merely a middle - sized city. And presumably it wouldn't be hitched to even the crudest sort of missile.

So what? So Quemoy and Matsu, those strategic islands which are stepping stones between the Chinese mainland and Formosa, could easily be immobilized by the most primitive sort of nuclear bomb. And it would ont be a superhuman feat for a Red Chinese pilot to drop a makeshift bomb on Formosa itself.

The question is not whether Red China will or will not have what is called major atomic capability in the near future. The question is whether the U. S., which has bigge bombs and a developed missile delivery system, is prepared to put its weapons at the service of small Asiatic nations if Red China tries to blackmail them. If our diplomacy indicates for a single moment that we will not come to the assistance of Formosa, South Vietnam, Thailand, the Philppines or India in case Mao Tse-tung chooses to brandish a primitive atomic weapon at one of them, we will be through as a force in the Far East. The rush to propitiate Red China will carry everything before it.

The moment that Red China gets an atomic bomb it will make any "soft" diplomacy academic so far as the Far East is concerned. How could you significantly "neutralize" a South Vietnam that is close to a fire-breathing Mao Tse-tung armed with nuclear power? The only way you could do it would be to offer atomic "sanctions" to the "neutralized" nation, promising to devastate Red China or one of its "privileged sanctuary" satellites in case the Communists chose to violate the neutrality guarantee. What this means, in practical terms, is that North Vietnam must call off its infiltration of South Vietnam if there is to be any guarantee of South Vietnam that means anything. But this is precisely what the North Vietnamese have proved themselves unwilling to do. Are they likely to be any more pliable once Red China has a crude atomic bomb?

The recent Cairo conference of the "non - aligned" world proved the difficulty of dealing with nations which are unwilling to follow the line that peaceful co-existence with the capitalist West if possible. Indonesia's Sukarno and Ghana's Nkrumah may have been outvoted by the more peacefully inclined non-aligned nations, but the tough Sukarno displayed no willingness to relax in his fight against what he calls the "old forces of domination." And with Mao Tse-tung brandishing an atomic bomb, the non - moderate "third force" nations would surely step up their intransigence. All of which makes Yugoslavia's appeal for "nuclear disarmament under international control" sound just as wishful as the comparable pleas of the ban-the-bomb advocates in England or the United States.

Since Lyndon Johnson must be willing to engage in brinkmanship to hold the lines in the Far East against a Red China that is armed with even a crude nuclear bomb, the present campaign lullabys about "peace" are essentially meaningless. There will be no accommodation in the case of South Vietnam short of an expressed and proven willingness on the part of the United States to defend any and all the nations on the Red Chinese periphery against nuclear blackmail. There could, of course, be a compromise if Mao Tse-tung would willingly call off his infiltration dogs in South Vietnam and Laos. But seeing is believing in this matter. Johnson must be prepared to be as tough as Goldwater if defeat for the U. S. in Asia is to be avoided.

Security Checkup System Effectiveness Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Walter W. Jenkins morals case raises this important question: How effective is the U.S. government program aimed at keeping possible security risks off the federal payroll?

The answer appears to be that an intensive effort is made, but that the machinery slips a cog now and then.

The magnitude of the effort is illustrated by a couple of statistics:

1. Last year the Civil Service Commission made 230,000 checks on applicants for nonsensitive jobs, such as mailmen. These checks cost about $5 each.

2. In the same period, the commission made 35,000 "full field investigations" of people wanting sensitive jobs, such as computer operators handling national defense data. The cost of these probes averaged about $390.

The Civil Service Commission handles most — but not all — of these investigations for the executive branch of government. The FBI handles quite a few, including White House appointees. And each of the military services has its own investigative branches.

Under an executive order issued years ago and reinforced in another order of 1948, every appointive officer in the executive branch, from cabinet officer down to waste-basket emptier, is supposed to have clearance of some kind of another .

The highest clearances are required for all members of the National Security Council except the president and vice president and all who attend council sessions where sensitive matters are discussed. This includes the secretary of state, the secretary of defense and the direcor of the Office of Emergency Planning.

The National Security Council does not make investigations itself. It relies on the agencies who send people before it.

"For example," an official said, "when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara attends a session, he is responsible for the guaranteed security of himself and the people he brings with him."

Jenkins, who resigned as special assistant to President Johnson this week after his arrest on morals charges in 1959 and last Oct. 7 became public knowledge, attended some National Security Council meetings and had access to any information the President had, persons familiar with his duties have said.

An Air Force Reserve officer, Jenkins was granted a top secret clearance by the Air Force in 1956 after an investigation into his background, the Defense Department said last night.

In 1958, when Johnson was majority leader of the Senate and in a position to receive much classified information, Jenkins, as his aide, was investigated by the FBI at the request of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Sources have said this check disclosed no personal behavior that might reflect unfavorably on Jenkins' clearance for access to classified material.

The clearance situation on Capitol Hill is different from that of the executive branch Congress is a separate branch of government and not beholden to executive orders.

So, some congressional committees, before hiring staffers, ask the FBI to look the applicants over. Others are more carefree, hiring people without even a $5 checkup.

What happens when a congressman, or one of his employes, gets into a position where he needs access to top secrets, like those of the Atomic Energy Commission?

The director of the AEC then has the delicate task of determining whether granting such access will be in accord with national security.

One gathers that, on the record at least, elected members of Congress are not given the full "field investigation treatment."

But one gathers, too, that the AEC, in considering such questions, tries to look at congressmen and their employes as individuals, rather than officials, and tries to guide itself accordingly.

Khrush . . .

and ready to blame everything on Khrushchev.

The agricultural situation — for which Khrushchev insisted on taking credit or blame — was so bad the country had to go to capitalist Canada and the United States for wheat to feed its people.

The people had gained just enough liberty under Khrushchev's destalinization programs to demand a lot more.

The downgrading of Stalin, in turn, had led to a bitter ideological and nationalistic quarrel with Red China and a loosening of Kremlin control over the East European satellites.

Word that Khrushchev's mortal enemies — the Chinese Communists — were about to explode an A-bomb probably signaled the end for the Soviet leader.

Another coffin nail was driven in by the hand of a dead man: Italian Red chief Palmiro Togliatti.

Togliatti's cohorts in Rome published, a few days after his death Aug. 21 during a health cure on the Soviet Crimea, a manifesto he had written just before. In it he proclaimed that there were quarrels in the Kremlin which should be publicly aired and declared the Italian party's independence of Moscow.

The now ousted Premier must have contributed to this situation himself, and he must have known that one of the unpleasant results would be denunciation in his old mouthpiece, Pravda, as a hairbrained braggart who sought dictatorship and refused to take into account current achievements in science and industry.

Although the Soviet Union's downward course during the past four years would have gotten any leader thrown out, it is true that Khrushchev suffers from a heart condition and high blood pressure — the first mentioned official excuse.

It is also true that Nina Petrovna Khrushcheva, whom he married in 1924, has been urging him to retire.

One of the chief charges made by the Central Committee against Khrushchev was giving his relatives too many jobs.

The best known was son-in-law Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the government newspaper Izvestia. But granddaughter Julia had a job on the trade union newspaper Trud, a son-in-law was director of the Kiev opera and Khrushchev's brother-in-law Mikhail Sholokhov, author of "And Quiet Flows the Don", was singled out for more honors than any other Russian writer.

Wittenberg Invite OKd By Miller

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Republican vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York State will head a list of speakers making campaign speeches the last two weeks of October at Wittenberg University, officiails announced today.

President John N. Stauffer said 10 candidates — including President Lyndon B. Johnson, his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, and GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater — were also invited but were unable to fit a university appearance into campaign schedules.

Stauffer said Miller will speak at the university fieldhouse at 3:30 p.m. EST Oct. 21.

Other speakers will be Sen. Stephen M. Young, Cleveland Democrat, 10:30 a.m. on Oct. 22; Rep. Clarence Brown, Blanchester Republican 8 p.m. Oct. 29; and Jerry Graham, Wittenberg instructor and Democratic candidate for Rep. Brown's House seat, 8 p.m. on Oct. 28.

GRAHAM, N. C. (AP) — A 64-year-old Glen Raven man, who had never before been convicted of a crime, was told to mow a church yard for two summers.

The unusual sentence was given Irving Gates after he was convicted for stealing a lawnmower. The judge gave Gates a two year prison sentence, suspended on the condition he mow the church lawn.

Could be a friendly gesture, though. The dog's owner, Mrs. J. H. Whitner, is a co-petter with Goldwater.

Views on Television — Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Brian Kelly's agent suggested the actor try out for a television series based on "Flipper," Kelly replied, "What's a flipper?"

The agent educated Kelly about the MGM box office success starring a high-I.Q. dolphin.

"Are you crazy?" Kelly replied. "Me do a series with a dolphin, two kids and a lot of fish? Nobody would ever know I was in it."

The agent prevailed and escorted Kelly to MGM for a chat with producer Ivan Tors and his staff. The actor warmed to the project when he heard their interpretation, but he insisted on his own terms for the widower father in the series.

"I won't play him as the usual type of television father whom everyone pushes around and who wants only to see that his family is happy," he said. "This guy will have to be a real disciplinarian. The kids must know that if they don't toe the mark, they'll get taken behind the woodshed."

On that basis — and with some salutary terms — Brian Kelly signed for "Flipper." You can see the results on NBC tonight and every Saturday. Judging from the ratings, the series has hope of surviving the season.

That's fine with Kelly, despite the competition of the small fry and finny folk and a hammy pelican to boot. He figures there is still enough footage over for him. He likes to stress that "Flipper" is suitable for the whole family, not just the kiddies.

"I think adults will be interested in the research aspects of the work with dolphins," said Kelly. "The United States government is spending a total of $750,000 for research with dolphins this year along, and I believe scientists are close to a major break-through.

"Already they have detected 1,400 different sounds the dolphins exchange. There can be no doubt that they communicate with sounds among each other."

Kelly is the son of Harry F. Kelly, former governor of Michigan and now chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Adults Study Defense in Teen Drinking

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Eleven adults have been granted more time to prepare defenses against charges of serving liquor to teen-agers at two house parties. A debutante was killed in an automobile crash shortly after the parties, last June.

Two other defendants, Francis E. Dutcher of Darien, Conn., vice president of the Johns Mansville Corp., and his wife, were fined $250 each Thursday after they pleaded no contest to the charges.

Connecticut law forbids the serving of liquor to persons under 21 except by their parents. The 1933 law had been little known until a judge ordered the arrests three weeks ago. He acted after hearing testimony at the trial of Michael Smith, 19, whom he convicted three days ago of reckless driving and negligent homicide and sentenced to 60 days in jail. Smith has appealed.

The auto crash victim was Nancy Hitchings, 17, daughter of a vice president of American Airlines.

Arraignment of the 11 others was postponed until later this month to permit their lawyers to seek further details from the prosecution and to seek dismissal of the charges.

LESS EXPENSIVE—C. A. Dieman, maintenance director of the Post Office Department, displays a new aluminum mailbox in Washington. It is being tested for maintenance-free qualities. The 68-pound mailbox, fabricated by Reynolds Metals, is said to eliminate need of a biennial removal for painting.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Let Him Enjoy It, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a college instructor. He's wonderful in almost every respect, but he's a nut on sports. He's 27 and I'm 26. He was raised on a farm and his dad never let him go out for sports in school because farm chores came first. He's on two softball teams, and when he isn't playing, he's practicing. When softball season is over, it's football. After football, it's basketball. (He plays golf in between, and he's good at everything.) He likes hockey, too. Don't tell me to find myself something to do. We have two boys. One is two years old and the other is three months. I try to be a good kid and go to watch my husband whenever he plays. I sat in the bleachers at a hockey game when I was a week overdue with my second, and chased my 8-month-old all over the gym.

Someone called my husband to be on a bowling team and I overheard him say, "My wife is unreasonable when it comes to sports!" I ask you . . .WHO is unreasonable?

SPORTS WIDOW

DEAR SPORTS: Your husband. Be patient. Time will sideline him soon enough, and then he'll learn you're the best sport he has.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see your apology for lambasting the clergyman for asking the bride if she were pregnant when she and her fiance came to him to discuss their maraiage plans. This is a standard question now, and I am sure the clergyman meant no personal-offense. If a priest learns that the only reason a couple is getting married is to give a child a name, he will recommend a civil ceremony rather than a religious one.

INFORMED

DEAR ABBY: You disappointed me when you "begged forgiveness" for criticizing the clergyman for asking the bride if she were pregnant.

If a clergyman had asked ME such a question in the presence of my fiance, my fiance would have asked him to take his collar off and step outside. When an innocent person is accused of shoplifting, and is subjected to the humiliation of a search, he has a case against the store, you know. I am not a thief, and no one has the right to ask me to prove that I didn't steal something. The principle is the same.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have been kissed quite a lot. My problem is when a fellow kisses me for the first time, should I pretend I don't know how to kiss very well, or should I let him know that I do?

I don't want him to thin kI have had too much experience along this line, and then again, I don't want him to think I haven't had any. Can you help me?

SIXTEEN

DEAR SIXTEEN: Just do what comes naturally. But don't overwhelm him in the first act or you'll have nothing to do for an encore.

DEAR ABBY: A psychiatrist once told me that a man who beats his wife was probably beaten by his mother (or a female figure of authority) when he was a child. If more mothers knew this they wouldn't be so quick to hit their sons.

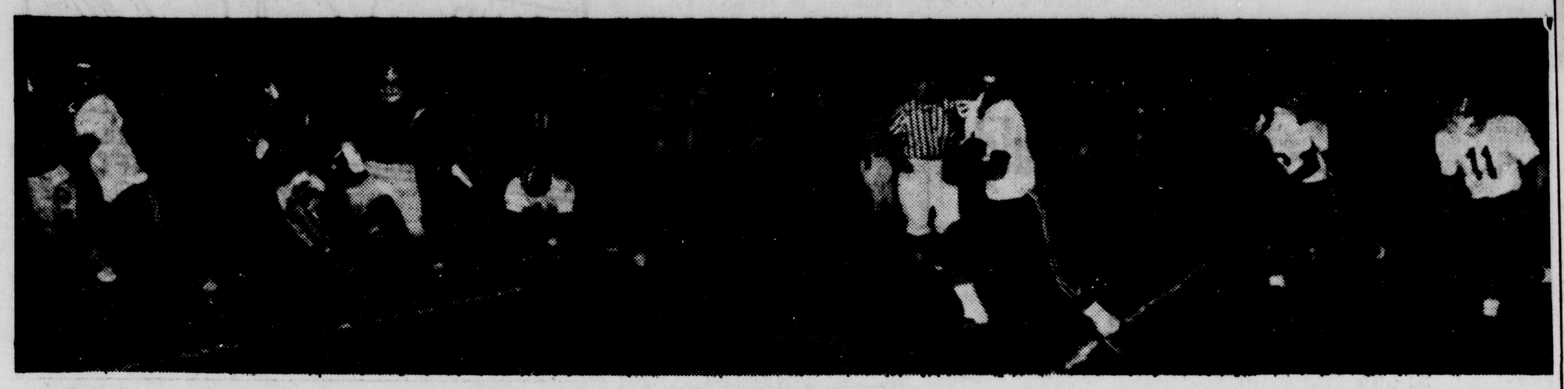
Tigers Stopped by Hurricane, 12-0 In 1964 Homecoming Contest



IT'S SMITH — A long runback of a pass interception by Eddie Smith in the game with the Hurricane last night was nullified by a Circleville holding penalty. Smith pilfered the ball near the Tiger goal line and raced back to near midfield.

The Circleville Tigers staged a valiant but futile battle against powerful Wilmington last night, losing a heartbreaking Homecoming and South Central Ohio league game, 12-0, here.

The win gives the Hurricane from Clinton County sole possession of first place in the South Central Ohio League with a 3-0 mark while Circleville, 2-1, is in second place with Hillsboro and Greenfield.

Washington and Miami Trace are all alone in the cellar with 0-2 league records.

Wilmington scored first early in the game on a 45 yard pass from quarter back John McElwee to big Mike Wilson, the Wilmington fullback.

• • •

THE PLAY, coming on a fourth and five situation, caught the Tiger defense flat footed. They were expecting a punt.

The first touchdown made the difference in the game according to Paul Starr.

"We had two inexperienced boys at the safety slots tonight," Starr pointed out. "They were expecting a punt and didn't adjust quickly enought to the play'

"If they (Wilmington) hadn't connected on that pass, it might have been a different game."

The second touchdown for Wilmington came in third quarter.

The Hurricane's speedy Bucky Scott took the Circleville kick off deep in his own territory and ran it back to his own 42 yard line.

FROM there the visitors engineered a 58 yard touchdown march with Wilson providing the big punch when needed.

Although it was Scott who eventually carried the ball ver the goal line, Wilson gained exactly half of the yardage in the march.

Twice during the drive in fourth down situations, the powerful Wilmington fullback picked up the first down to keep the touchdown bid alive.

Neither time was the Hurricane to make good on the conversion attempt.

Circleville never penetrated deeper than the Wilmington 25 yard line. They did this late in the second period.

However, with 36 seconds till halftime, the Hurricane anticipated a Circleville pass and Bob Williams, a senior safety for the Black and Orange intercepted.

SHORTLY after that a brilliant pass interception by Eddie Smith, seeing much action at safety in place of Howard Dade, and the ensuing runback was nullified by a holding penalty.

It was the second holding penalty in a row for the Tigers and gave Wilmington a first and 10 situation on the Circleville 11 yard line.

But time ran out before the Hurricane could score and the teams entered the dressing room with the visitors hold the important 6-0 edge.

Although Wilmington picked up their second TD with 4:24 to go in the third period, and halted any Circleville scoring effort, few of the fans left the game before the final gun was sounded.

It was a bruising hard fought battle right down to the end, that saw tempers flare on both sides in the closing seconds.

But for the most part, it was a clean hard-nosed game.

CIRCLEVILLE was penalized a total of 45 yards — 30 for defensive holding. Wilmington was penalized 70 yards.

Although Circleville was outgained 100 yards, the big difference had to be that first quarter pass for 45 yards and the touchdown.

After the game, a dejected Paul Starr said, "I'm sorry we let the people of the town down. The boys played a great game, and I'm proud of them.

"If the fans want to blame any body for the loss I hope they blame me and don't take it out on the kids.

"This Wilmington is a fine ball club" Starr continued. "Their overall depth is terrific. We could hardly tell the difference when they substituted.

"And injuries hurt us again tonight.

"MICK (Tomlinson) got that head injury early in the game. And when a kid gets a head injury, we just don't take any chances. He didn't play any more after that.

"We had a few other injuries although I won't know how bad any of them are until tomorrow morning. "We've never played a team that hit harder than Wilmington," was his closing statement.

Tiger Pointers

Mike (Big Daddy) Wilson was the leading ground gainer and pass receiver in the game. The huge Wilmington fullback tips the scales at 250 pounds, and moves with surprising speed and agility in spite of his bulk.

Wilson's 86 yards on the ground plus his 45 yard touchdown pass catch accounts for well over half the yardage gained by Wilmington.

It totals up to 131 yards, 15 yards more than Circleville gained. A bruising tackle on defense, Wilson looks like the best college prospect the South Central Ohio League has seen recently.

Mike Ramey, Circleville's fullback, paced the Tigers offensively with 48 rushing yards on 13 carries. Charging through a line presented by Wilmington, this is quite an accomplishment. Ramey, a junior, will be back again, to provide the Tigers with a top fullback.

Howard Dade, who saw only limited action because of his injured shoulder, gained 35 yards for Circleville on six carries.

The Wilmington coach, Dean (Oakie) Waddell emulates Ohio State's Woody Hayes in many ways. Besides coaching a team that relies heavily on a powerful fullback that grinds out the yardage with a cloud of dust, he also wears short sleeve shirts and paces the sidelines in front of his bench — much as the famous Buckeye coach does.

Circleville's lack of depth at key positions may have been a telling factor in the game. Dade saw limited action. Gene Smith was out with a broken hand, as he has been for several games. And Tomlinson missed the second half of the game.

Tiger Coach Paul Starr pointed out that several key errors made by his gridders were made by freshmen and sophomores who were playing.

Both Circleville losses this year have come at the hands of teams that boasted powerful fullback attacks. Pleasant View defeated the Tigers, 22-6.

The last time a Tiger football team was held scoreless was Oct. 7, 1961. It was the Hurricane from Clinton County that provided the impenetrable defense in a 30-0 game that stopped the Tiger hopes for an undefeated season and the SCO title.

That year they finished in a tie for first place. In 1962 Circleville won the crown outright, and again last year were tied for the top spot in the league.

Wilmington with games against Washington C. H. and Greenfield remaining, are in a commanding position in the title race at this point.

STOP THAT HURRICANE — The Circleville defenders bring down a Wilmington ball carrier in the South Central Ohio League tilt staged on the Tiger gridiron last night. The Hurricane exhibited a powerful fullback attack in the game, winning by a 12-0 count.

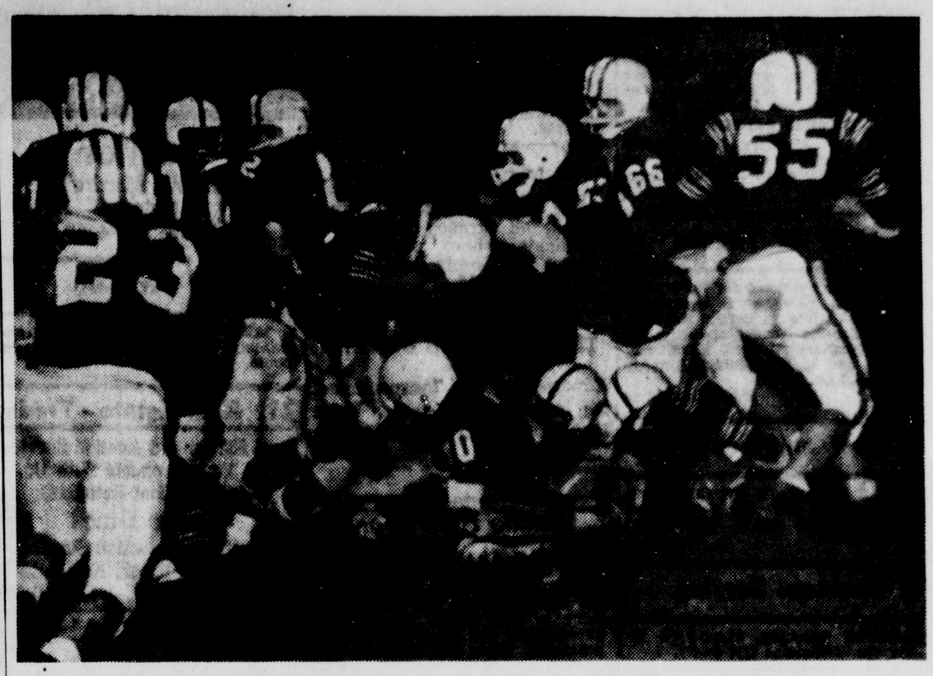
Braves Topple Westfall In 30-0 Conference Tilt



HUFFMAN SCORES — Bill Huffman bulled through a mass of Westfall players to score the final touchdown of the game between the Mustangs and the Braves of Logan Elm. He was the leading groundgainer and the leading scorer in the tilt. (Photos by Beaver Studio)

The Logan Elm grid team took its sixth consecutive win of the year last night, defeating visiting Westfall, 30-0.

The Braves are now 2-0 in the Scioto Valley Conference while Westfall has a 1-2 record — counting a forfeit due next week by Laurelville.

Logan Elm was held to a single touchdown in the first half by a hard fighting Westfall unit, but experience and depth provided three second half scores.

The first tally for the Braves came with 9:10 remaining in the first period.

• • •

BOB STANT plunged over from three yards out to put the Braves out front. Steve Burger made good on the two point conversion try.

It was not until 3:30 remained in the third period the Braves were able to score again.

This time Bill Huffman provided the six point tally, scoring from 13 yards out, while sophomore quarterback Russ Merrin ran for the two extra points.

With 4:14 remaining in the game, Rick Shaw gave Logan Elm a 22-0 lead, going over from one yard out.

The final score came with just 20 seconds remaining in the game. Again it was Bill Huffman scoring the six points.

Tom Smith, another sophomore quarterback, hit Mike Spangler in the end zone with a pass for the two extra points.

FOR Logan Elm, Bill Huffman was the leading ground gainer and the workhorse of the team.

The senior fullback carried the ball 21 times picking up 116 yards rushing. But his effort for the Braves did not come without a penalty.

Immediately following the game while going toward the dressing room, Huffman collapsed.

He was rushed to Berger Hospital, where he was pronounced a victim of "sheer exhaustion" by the examining physician.

Although not believed to be seriously ill, he was hospitalized for observation for the remainder of the night.

Following Huffman in the ground gaining department was Rick Shaw, a halfback. In 12 carries, he picked up 63 yards for the Braves.

TOTAL rushing yardage accumulated by Logan Elm runners was 228. In the air they connected on three of eight pass attempts for 61 yards.

Their offense gave them 13 first downs rushing and one passing. They were forced to punt three times in the game and averaged 33 yards per kick.

The Braves fumbled once and lost it.

The Mustangs gained 50 yards on the ground and 14 in the air, completing five of 14 attempted aerials.

They could pick up only three first downs on the ground and one passing.

They were forced to punt six times, averaging 36 yards per boot.

• • •

BOTH teams were penalized 45 yards.

Playing linebacker, Rick Shaw turned in the best defensive job for the Braves. He was in on 11 tackles in the game while Gary Black, a defensive tackle, was in on ten.

Overall, Logan Elm Coach Keith Merrin reported he was pleased with the defensive play of his Braves.

He reported the blocking would definitely have to show an improvement before they meet SVC foe Unioto next week.

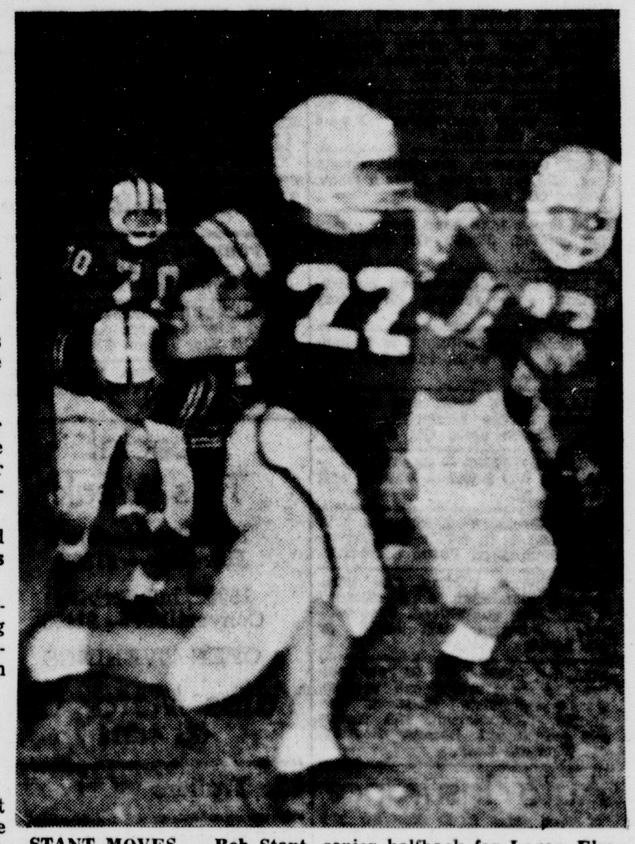
"Westfall put up a good battle," Merrin said. "They play real good football considering their inexperience."

Westfall, originally scheduled to play Laurelville, will have an open date for the coming week.

• • •

ON OCT. 30 they will host Paint Valley in what will be the first game played at the County's newest high school.

The lights for the football field have been installed.



STANT MOVES — Bob Stant, senior halfback for Logan Elm, races around his right end to pick up yardage against Westfall in a Scioto Valley Conference tilt. Stant scored the first touchdown of the game.

Keane Going to Yankees, Leo to Cards, Rumors Say

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the baseball world digested Friday's bombshells that left World Series rivals Johnny Keane and Yogi Berra as exmanagers, the grapevine whispered that Keane will be the new pilot of the New York Yankees and Leo Durocher will succeed him as field boss of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Reliable sources reported that Keane had the edge for the Yankee job over Alvin Dark, ousted earlier this month as manager of the San Francisco Giants.

Durocher was known to be the favorite of St. Louis owner Gussie Busch but the Cards' new general manager, Bob Howsam, was rumored to be pushing Charlie Metro, Chicago White Sox scout and veteran minor league pilot.

"Keane will take over Yogi's job" said a headline in the New York Daily News.

The News said it "learned of Keane's taking over the managerial assignment late Friday night when an authoritative source said the decision was made as long ago as three weeks."

Before the second-guessers had much of a chance to rehash the World Series, Keane marched into Busch's St. Louis office and handed in his resignation, which he said was written several weeks ago.

Not long after, Berra got the bad news from Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk that the American League champs and decided to replace him after a one-year trial. The 39-year-old Yogi immediately signed a two-year contract as a special field consultant under Houk.

Those were the biggest developments as baseball began its winter-long layoff from the hectic 1964 season.

In addition to the Keane-Berra announcements:

The Cleveland Indians, rumored to be moving to Seattle, decided to remain in Cleveland at least through 1965.

Eight wealthy Milwaukee businessmen asked baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to help them arrange negotiations for the purchase of the Braves, whose present owners reportedly plan to move the club to Atlanta.

Houk said the Yankees probably would name Berra's successor within a week.

In St. Louis, Busch appointed a six-man committee to screen Cardinal candidates.

The idea of dropping Berra, Houk said, began in mid-August when the Yankees were 5½ games out of first place.

"The move had nothing to do with losing the World Series," Houk said. "Friday morning was the first Yogi knew about it. In his new job, he'll be scouting major league teams and looking at some of the players in our farm system."

Sikes Continues Lead in Sahara

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dick Sikes, the 24-year-old upstart in his rookie year on the professional golf tour, led the way into the third round of the $70,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament today, with a three-stroke lead.

The national collegiate champion of 1963 held a five-stroke bulge over National Open champion Ken Venturi, six over Arnold Palmer and eight over the defending champion of the Sahara event, Jack Nicklaus.

Ouchy Shoulder May Bench Packer Star

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pinched shoulder nerve makes halfback Paul Hornung a questionable starter for the Green Bay Packers against the Baltimore Colts in a game Sunday for first place in the National Football League's Western Conference.

The game tops a Sunday program of seven NFL and two American League games. An AFL game between the New York Jets and the Houston Oilers is scheduled tonight in New York.

Hornung was injured last week and may play, although Packers Coach Vince Lombardi is often close-mouthed about the effect of injuries to key players. In the season's first meeting between the clubs, Hornung missed an extra point attempt as the Colts won 21-20. The Colts (4-1) lead the Packers (3-2) by one game in the conference.

The defending champion Chicago Bears (2-3) will depend on the passing of Bill Wade against the Detroit Lions whose 3-1-1 record gives them a strong interest in the outcome of the Cols' clash.

Cleveland and St. Louis are tied for the Eastern Conference lead with 3-1-1 records. The Cardinals play in St. Louis for the first time this season, meeting Washington (1-4), fresh from a victory last week over Philadelphia. The Browns meet Dallas (1-3-1) on the rebound from a defeat by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In other NFL games, Philadelphia (2-3) plays at New York (1-3-1), Pittsburgh (3-2) is at Minnesota (2-3) and San Francisco (2-3) is at Los Angeles (2-2-1).

Buffalo's Bills, leading the AFL Eastern Conference with five straight victories, move into Kansas City (2-2) Sunday. The Denver Broncos (1-4) are at San Diego (2-2-1).

In the weekend opener, the Oakland Raiders ended a five-game losing streak but barely hung on to share a 43-43 tie with Boston, now 4-1-1 and second to the Bills in the east.

Indians To Stay In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Board of Directors of the Cleveland Indians has decided to keep the American League franchise in Cleveland, where it has been since the league was formed in 1901.

It seemed the huge ball park was in danger of losing the Indians to Seattle, Dallas or Oakland for a while, but General Manager Gabe Paul spiked all the rumors Friday after a 4½ hour meeting with 16 of the 22 board of directors.

The Board signed a 10-year lease with the city for use of the stadium, with an option for either party to cancel at the end of each year.

Canton Game To Highlight United Loop

CLEVELAND (AP) — Canton invades Indianapolis Sunday night in the key contest of this weekend's four - game United Football League card, and the visiting Bulldogs will be handicapped by loss of Quarterback Jake Jacobs.

Jacobs, who shares signal-calling with Bob Brodhead, received head and neck injuries in Canton's 21-14 upset last Sunday of Charleston, the team that beat the Bulldogs 14-0 earlier in the league's only shutout so far.

The much improved Canton team exhibited impressive defensive line play against Charleston and should make things tough for the Warriors' fullback, Roger Lopes, who set a UFL rushing record of 218 yards against Toledo a week ago.

Saturday night UFL games send Quebec to Joliet and Toledo to Charleston, and in the other Sunday night game Grand Rapids is at Wheeling.

Wheeling and Charleston have 5-2 records, and are rated favorites to win. If they do, Canton also 5-2, could throw both UFL divisions into a tie by upsetting Indianapolis, which has the league's best won-lost record at 6-1.

Viking Defeated, 37-0 By Tough Franklin Heights

CHARGE — An unidentfied Franklin Heights player seems to be urging his teammates on in the game between the Falcons and the Teays Valley Vikings. Vikings in the action who can be identified are Bennie Vause (31), Richard Myers (70), Dave Roese (10), Tom Ray (11).

Teays Valley's football team was handed a 37-0 South Suburban League loss by Franklin Heights' rampaging Falcons last night on the Viking field.

It was the second consecutive win for the Falcons in the new league operating in the Pickaway - Franklin County area this year for the first time.

Last week the Falcons topped Hamilton Twp. by a 19-6 count in the league lid lifter. The gridiron boys from Hamilton were dumped last night by Pleasant View, the fourth member of the young conference, 16-8.

In league competition, The Falcons are 2-0, the Pleasant View Panthers 1-0 Teays Valley 0-1 and Hamilton, 0-2.

FRANKLIN Heights scored in every quarter as they riddled the Viking defense for 322 yards, picking up 16 first downs.

The Falcons' defense was stingy with yardage, allowing Teays Valley a meager 66 yards total offense and four first downs.

The first touchdown came on a 35 yard pass from Charles Walters, Falcon signal caller, to Cleve Matheny. Sam Jefferies booted the extra point for the only conversion of the game.

In the second period Hall cracked over from the four yard line for a tally while Walters scored two — one on a 35 yard run and the other on a pass interception.

Parrett tallied the third period score on . 25 yard run while Bruce Baker came up with the final TD of the game, plunging over from six yards out.

For the Vikings, it was the fourth consecutive loss. After defeating Olentangy, 26-8, in the initial game of the season, the only score for the Viking offense came on an intercepted pass against Logan Elm.

Circleville, Carroll and now Franklin Heights own shutout victories over the Viking gridders.

American Stars Continue To Amass Olympic Medals

TOKYO (AP)—Massive Dallas Long collected the United State' 500th gold medal in Olympic history, led America's forces through another day of domination in the Tokyo Games today — and then promptly announced his retirement.

"This is it for me," the 260-pounder from Los Angeles said. "I don't plan to compete any more. It's back to school and more training for the dentistry."

Long, the world record holder, won the shot put with a throw of 66 feet, 8½ inches and spearheaded a men's track thrust that produced two more Olympic records and one-two finishes in both the shot and 200-meter dash.

The victories pushed the leading American medal count to 47, including 21 gold. Russia, with some of its strongest events yet to come, added one gold on Irina Press' world record performance in the pentathlon and now has 31 medals, including 10 gold.

Henry Carr, a slim, 6-foot-3 student at Arizona State University, moved his smooth, picture-perfect stride over the 200 meters in 20.3 seconds, just one-tenth of a second off his own world record, and completed the return of the United States to Olympic sprint supremacy.

The U.S. lost both sprint gold medals — long considered private property — in 1960. Bob Hayes got one back in the 100 meters two days ago, and Carr completed the comeback with his Olympic record performance.

Paul Drayton of Cleveland was second in the 200 and Randy Matson, a teen-age giant from the brown, rolling prairie country of Pampa, Tex., was second to Long with a toss of 66-3¼, also over the old Olympic mark.

"He has everything," Long said of the 6-foot-6, 240 pound Texan. "Poise, strength, timing. In two years he'll be throwing it out of sight."

The United States was blanked in the 3,000-meter seeplechase and two women's events, the pentathlon and 400-meter run, but neither came as a surprise.

Belgium's Gaston Roelants, the world record holder, took the steeplechase in 8:30.8, an Olympic record and the third fastest in history, with George Young of Casa Grande, Ariz., fifth in 8:38.2.

Boss Pooh-Poohs Brown Retirement

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Brown, the Cleveland Browns' great fullback, said Friday he plans to retire after two more seasons—but club owner and President Art Modell isn't convinced.

"Two more years is an outside possibility," Brown said in an interview taped for radio. "I might stop before that, but I won't play anymore than that. These are my plans."

Modell said, "This is the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard. Every player does it. Twenty players on my club have told me they were going to retire. It was meaningless.

"Jim Brown is going to be with me as long as he feels he can make a contribution."

Eddie Teague is in his eighth season as Citadel's football coach.

Pro Cagers Open Without Big Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Russell is too fat and Wilt Chamberlain is too sick.

That's the story in a nutshell as the Boston Celtics and San Francisco Warriors, division champs a year ago, prepare for their National Basketball Association openers tonight.

Boston is at home with Detroit, while San Francisco plays at Baltimore. In other action, Cincinnati is at St. Louis and Los Angeles at New York.

The campaign opened Friday night in Philadelphia, where the 76ers trounced Detroit 125-113. Hal Greer collected 32 points and Paul Neumann 20 as the 76ers led throughout.

"I'm very happy with rookies John Thompson and Ron Bonham," Boston coach Red Auerbach said, "but outside of Willie Naulls, I'm not too happy with the veterans—particularly Russell and Tom Heinsohn."

The Celtics have won eight championships in nine seasons. Russell, Heinsohn and Auerbach himself are the only survivors of the first championship squad.

Chamberlain will remain in Philadelphia's Temple University Hospital while the Warriors keep their fingers crossed for a speedy recovery.

Nate Thurmond, 6-foot-11 second-year man, will take Chamberlain's pivot spot.

The high-scoring San Francisco star, who averaged 36.9 points a game last season, is undergoing tests for an abdominal disorder that has puzzled doctors so far. Without him, the Warriors lost 11 of 14 exhibition games to Los Angeles.

The Bullets pulled a big trade with Detroit during the summer, acquiring Bailey Howell and Don Ohl, among others. Those two will start, along with 6-11 Walt Bellamy, Gus Johnson and Si Green, and the Bullets have hopes of making a run for first place inthe West.

A leg injury in practice this fall stopped Chicago Bear center Mike Pyle. He had played in 4 straight National Football League games until the injury.

Dallas Cowboy defensive back Mel Renfro is one of the fastest developing rookies in the National Football League, says Coach Tom Landry. Renfro also is a kickoff return specialist.

State Considered Key to Victory

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, barnstorming across Ohio, asked a cheering crowd today "do you want one man's thumb on your country, or do you want yours?"

In his first stop on a second swing through the state he has labeled a key to victory Nov. 3 the Republican presidential nominee launched into an attack on President Johnson for grabbing too much power.

He called the Democratic philosophy of government the "one-man, one-thumb idea."

Two weeks ago Goldwater made a whistle-stop tour across Ohio. His other stops today were at Akron, Canton and Youngstown.

As the Arizona senator reached the center of town he was greeted by almost as many LBJ signs as Goldwater signs.

But the reception from the crowd, estimated by police at 4,000, was noisy and friendly.

Goldwater defended himself against what he called his worst liability — charges that he is trigger-happy and might start a war if he was elected president.

He began by saying: "Before we talk about whose finger ought to be on the trigger, I want to talk about whose finger ought to be on the country, whose thumb."

Godlwater said it was possible "to disagree without being disagreeable."

He recalled his brief meeting Friday with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, in Sioux Falls, S. D.

Boos greeted the mention of Humphrey's name, and Goldwater said:

"There is no need to boo. He is a candidate just like all of us."

"We had a very friendly visit and went on our way," Goldwater recalled.

Ohio Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss was among the official greeters and plans to be with Goldwater on his other three Ohio stops. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown is the only elected state official planning to be with the senator for the entire tour. Gov. James A. Rhodes, also a Republican, was absent.

News of World in Brief

CINCINNATI (AP) Two 9-year-old boys in suburban Fairfax have been missing since Thursday afternoon, it was reported late Friday night.

Fairfax Police Chief James Finan said he was unable to confirm any reports of Johnny Hundley and James McQueary, school chums, being seen since 4 p. m. Thursday.

Finan said the Hundley and McQueary boys are in the third grade at Fairfax School and were last seen playing together near their homes Thursday. Both were in class Thursday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A twin-engine, 1200 - mile - per-hour-plus F101 jet fighter crash-landed Friday after encountering hydraulic pressure trouble, Lockbourne Air Force Base's information officer said today.

The swept-wing "Voodoo" was enroute from Tyndall AFB, Panama City, Fla., to Selfridge AFB. Mount Clemens, Mich.

The plane's two crewmen apparently escaped serious injury.

Officials said the landing gear of the sleek, 68-foot-long jet folded upon contact with the runway, and it received some damage.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.'—(AP) — Delegates predicted today the General Assembly will postpone its opening at least two weeks in an effort to avert a clash between the United States and Russia's new regime over U.N. peacekeeping dues.

The word spread after the United States switched its stand and made known it would agree to postpone the Nov. 10 opening if someone else proposed such a move. It was believed a group of Asian or African nations would broach the idea and the Communist bloc would agree.

The dispute results from the Soviet refusal to pay General Assembly assessmentsts to finance the Congo and Middle-East peacekeeping operations. The Russians are two calendar years behind in their U.N. dues.

NEW YORK (AP) — After more than a year of setbacks, the Belgian village at the World's Fair was completed Friday — just in time for Sunday's winter closing of the exposition.

SAN FRANCISCO DEL RINCON, Mexico (AP) — Two sisters were found guilty Friday of slaying at least 80 girls in the operation of a white slave ring in central Mexico.

The sisters, Delifna Gonzalez Valenzuela, 56, and Maria de Jesus Gonzalez Valenzuela, 39, were given the maximum sentence, 40 years in prison.

The prosecution contended the ring had been operating for at least 10 years and the girls who were slain had tried to resist discipline.

The Gonzalez Valenzuela sisters admitted operating houses of prostitution but denied guilt for the deaths.

achievement that the United States will back them if they are threatened by Red China.

Officials report that so far they are encouraged by the reaction of Red China's neighbors, who seem to understand that a nuclear explosion does not mean China has immediate, real nuclear military power.

3. British election — On the whole, U.S. officials do not anticipate any serious policy differences with the new British government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, although progress toward agreement on the proposed NATO nuclear missile fleet seems sure to be slowed down considerably. This in turn could create some difficulties with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who has been pressing for an early settlement of the nuclear fleet issue.

The President and his advisers are mainly preoccupied with trying to determine the future course of Soviet foreign policy, which for almost two years has been based on development of Khrushchev's policy of "peaceful coexistence" with the United States and other allied powers.

Acting on instructions from Moscow, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin called at the White House yesterday and told the President the Soviet policy of "strengthening peace, peaceful coexistence among countries with different social systems, and further relaxation of tensions" will not be changed.

Officials said that two developments gave significant but by no means conclusive evidence of how the future course of Soviet policy might develop.

The new Moscow ruler sent a message to Johnson and many other world leaders announcing the change of government and offering assurance that basic Soviet foreign policy including peaceful coexistence, would not be changed. The approach to Johnson by Ambassador Dobrynin was clearly a bid for continued U.S.-Soviet friendly relations in the immediate future.

About the same time the top leaders of Red China, led by Mao Tze-ung, sent a message of congratulations to Brezhnev and Kosygin.

U.S. officials see this partly as a bid to establish contact with the new Russian leaders and thus open the way for reconciliation talks.

Ohio Friendly To President

Dayton Is Noisy For LBJ's Visit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—President Johnson, adopting some "give-'em-hell" touches on his latest campaign tour, says some who oppose him "ought to go you know where."

Johnson told a big, noisy crowd that turned downtown Dayton, Ohio, into a Democratic rally Friday night that he wants the votes of those who believe in Social Security, medical care for the aged, collective bargaining and equal rights for all Americans.

"If you don't believe in it," he said in an off-the-cuff remark, "you ought to go you know where."

The Dayton crowd, overwhelmingly friendly, included a handful of people bearing the first anti-Johnson signs to be inspired by the Walter Jenkins incident — the firing of a key presidential aide who had been arrested on morals charges. These placards read, "What about Jenkins?" and "Walter J?"

Johnson took no direct note of the signs, nor did he mention Jenkins in any of his speeches. He did say he would not resort to muckraking or mudslinging — that these "are always the weapons of desperation and fearful, frightened men."

"You can usually tell them by their words if not their signs," he added.

At another point Johnson whipped up his audience by saying there may be a time for "apostles of fear and apostles of smear and apostles of doubt, but it's not in Ohio and it's not in the 20th century."

And he prompted a persistent chant of "L-B-J! L-B-J!" by shouting, "Whose thumb do you want on that button?

Johnson refers to "the button" in almost every campaign speech. It's a reference to the President's power to order nuclear action, and its part of a standard Johnson claim that he would be more cautious than the Republican presidential nominee, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, in exercising this authority.

The bridge is on a straight stretch of road and is well marked, Sheriff Walton Spangler said.

Kirt was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus by a passing motorist.

for a talk and lunch on Tuesday. But the meeting was pushed up to 9:30 a.m. and then cut short.

Palewski recalled that Khrushchev talked about state affairs with the air of a man who was confident of running them for some time. He appeared in good health.

Khrushchev excused himself, saying he had to fly back to Moscow to greet the cosmonauts.

Palewski left and Khrushchev vanished, so far as the public was concerned.

He has not been mentioned since by press or radio except for the terse announcement that he had resigned.

Khrushchev arrived in Moscow early Tuesday afternoon. But, it was the landing of people like I. A. Benediktov, Soviet ambassador in India, that caused concern.

Benediktov is a member of the Central Committee that makes decisions for the Soviet Communist party. Most of the 170 members had been in Moscow secretly and had already begun meeting.

The nucleus of the committee, its Presidium, met Tuesday night, with Khrushchev present. It reportedly voted to remove him from his most important job, first secretary of the committee.

That happened once before, in 1957. But Khrushchev struck back by calling together the full committee in which he had a majority of support. Under the chairmanship of Mikhail Suslov, a steely aide to Stalin, the committee then ousted Khrushchev's opponents, including former Premiers G. M. Malenkov and V. M. Molotov.

It was different this time.

The committee met with Khrushchev Wednesday at its big grey office building four blocks from the Kremlin; Suslov spoke.

He accused Khrushchev of a "cult of personality" and a lack of dignity of his job. The other charges outlined by Pravda also were aired, including one that blamed him for agricultural failures.

Still another charge was bungling Soviet relations with other Communist parties, costing Moscow influence and weakening the world Communist movement.

Khrushchev also had offended army leaders by cutting troops and depending upon rockets, and steelmen by turning to consumer goods.

When the Central Committee vote came, Khrushchev lost. The count has not yet become known but the result showed that Khrushchev had been outmaneuvered within the party machinery.
